Pastor Travis Message—”When Life is Hell, Pray; Be Gracious to Me”

This year's Lenten Series is all about Jesus and all about each one of us as hurting people. We need grace from God to help us. Ash Wednesday is February 14 and will begin an intriguing walk through Psalm 41, the Psalm full of grace, Pastor Erik Rottman writes:

No Old Testament saint attests to God's grace quite like King David. Raised from the sheepfold to the throne of the house of Israel; raised again (and again, and again) from sin: pride, murder, adultery, and despising of God; lifted clear of the snare of the wicked (Psalm 119:110), of the pit (Psalm 30:3), of the very gates of death (Psalm 9:13); with no merit or worthiness in himself, David was continually raised up by God's grace and favor.

“God's grace wells up in Psalm 41, where David exults in divine mercy amid his own weakness, powerful enemies, and treacherous friends. In this psalm, David tracks the flow of divine grace back to its source at the cross and, with prophetic vision, finds it springing forth in the lives of all baptized believers—including you.

“How has God's grace raised you? If you haven't been set on a royal throne or made ruler over a great people, maybe you've seen improvements in your finances or employment. Or perhaps family strife has been quieted. Or maybe a compassionate helper or valuable ally has entered the picture at just the right moment. Have you shaken off a bad illness, a bad habit, or a bad influence? If so, rejoice and thank God for His grace and favor!

“But if you feel like you're sinking instead of rising, what then? Is there any comfort for the saint of God who looks around to find that “the waters have come up to my neck” (Psalm 69:1)? David knows that saint's fortunes because they are his as well:

“In the day of trouble the LORD delivers him; the LORD protects him and keeps him alive; he is called blessed in the land; You do not give him up to the will of his enemies. (Psalm 41:1–2)

You have a sure hope! Therefore, do not look for hope in your experiences or your emotions, which will portray for you the same bleak scene that David captures in Psalm 41: My enemies say of me in malice, “When will he die, and his name perish?” (v. 5)

* When one comes to see me, he utters empty words,

while His heart gathers iniquity. (v. 6)

* Even my close friend in whom I trusted, who ate my bread, has lifted his heel against me. (v. 9)

“Faith offers a better vision: despite all that binds and bruises and bleeds you, God will raise you up. He has raised you already! In Holy Baptism, God has “raised us up with Him and seated us with Him in the heavenly places in Christ Jesus” (Ephesians 2:6). If you are in Christ, how can you sink? How can you fall?

“Lent is the ideal time to meditate on David's ordeals and your secure position in Christ. Psalm 41 provides the ideal guide to your meditation. If the laments of Psalm 41 call to mind your numerous difficulties and need for deliverance, they depict even more clearly the work by which your deliverance has been won.

“David “prophesied about the grace that was to be yours” and “searched and inquired carefully” concerning your salvation (1 Peter 1:10). And that salvation is this: the Son of David, by grace, “might taste death for everyone” (Hebrews 2:9).

“Are the scheming enemies of Psalm 41:5 not the foes of Christ, who is sustained on His sickbed (v. 3) but the one by whose wounds you are healed (Isaiah 53:5)? Even the close friend of our Lord has lifted his heel against Him (Psalm 41:9). God be praised, all these sufferings are yours too! Or “do you not know that all of us who have been baptized into Christ Jesus were baptized into His death” (Romans 6:3)?

“Because you are in Christ, you share in all things with Him, even the prophetic Word. David's vision in Psalm 41 has become your reality in Christ. In the day of trouble, the Lord delivers you; the Lord protects you and keeps you alive; you are called blessed in the land (see Psalm 41:1–2). Press on to know the Lord's suffering, death, and Word. As surely as the Lenten journey ascends to the victory of Easter, you shall be raised up.”

Blessings in Christ,
Pastor James Travis

The Calvary Call

President Steve Turner (Iowa District West's President)

Dear Friends in Christ,

But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness, self-control; against such things there is no law. And those who belong to Christ Jesus have crucified the flesh with its passions and desires. If we live by the Spirit, let us also keep in step with the Spirit (Galatians 5:22-25 ESV).

Saint Paul speaks of the nine fruits of the Spirit: love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness, self-control. He says that against these there is no law. The sixth fruit of the Spirit that Paul identifies is goodness. Goodness is the visible fruit of the Spirit. It happens outside of us in the way we treat other people. It is expressed in our character in being honorable and a benefit to our world.

In the Bible, goodness is often described as a characteristic of God, that is shown by His followers. Jesus is the ultimate example of goodness, and His teachings emphasize the importance of loving one's neighbor, caring for the poor and needy, and treating others with compassion and respect. As Christians, we are called to live lives of goodness, reflecting the character of Christ in all that we do. The Augsburg Confession states it this way; It is also taught among us that such faith should produce good fruits and good works and that we must do all such good works as God has commanded, but we should do them for God's sake and not place our trust in them as if thereby to merit favor before God (Tappert Ed pp. 31–32).

As a fruit of the Spirit, we believe that goodness is God's work in us. Goodness is not a quality we can manufacture on our own. It comes from God. Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, coming down from the Father of lights, with whom there is no variation or shadow due to change (James 1:17). This happens only through faith. That is, when we believe that our sins are forgiven for Christ's who alone is the one who reconciles us to God. Justification by grace through faith does not interfere with our goodness but rather makes goodness possible!

We don't always get to choose our opportunities to be good to others. God chooses us for them. This often happens in ordinary events that happen in our lives. God is at work. Goodness is going out of your way to fulfill the needs of others. Goodness may be confronting another's sin with love and compassion rather than belittling or derogatory accusations. The ways you can show goodness are as diverse and creative as your imagination can possibly allow. Goodness is directed outward to others.

The Apostle John reminds us: In this the love of God was made manifest among us, that God sent his only Son into the world, so that we might live through him. In this is love, not that we have loved God but that he loved us and sent his Son to be the propitiation for our sins. Beloved, if God so loved us, we also ought to love one another... We love because he first loved us (1 John 4:9-11, 19 ESV)

God's love for us is the foundation of our love for our neighbor. Goodness directed to our neighbor is the fruit of God's love for us. We see it in the way we treat other people and the way they treat us. A fruit of the Spirit is goodness to and for others. Against this, there is no law. Rev. Dr. Steven D. Turner The Rev. Sharing Christ with our Neighbor and with the World—Steve Schultz

Pastor Schultz will be visiting Calvary February 25th at both 8 and 10:30 am and sharing a special Mission Central update at 9:15 am bible study.

I'm the "new" guy, and I extend greetings to you from Mission Central, where I have the joy of serving alongside Gary Thies in the important work of raising mission awareness among our congregations. As we share the exciting news about what the Lord is doing in His mission fields, it is always our intention to:

1. Encourage God's people to a deeper appreciation for the gifts that Jesus brings to them each week in Word and Sacrament.
2. Provide God's people with opportunities to support our missionaries who bring these same Means of Grace to lost souls around the world.
3. Deliver a Christ-centered and cross-focused presentation that will encourage our young people to prayerfully consider a vocation as fulltime church professionals and career missionaries.

It would be a great privilege for us to visit your congregation and share with you stories and pictures from around the world, as our missionaries tell others the Good News about Jesus. Let us rejoice that we have a Savior who lived a perfect life in our place, as our Substitute, who died on the cross to take the punishment that we deserve, and who rose again from the dead to give us a new life with Him that will last forever.

This joy and peace – this hope and certainty – is ours! That's why we share Christ with our neighbors and with the world, so they can have what we have and rejoice together with us in the blessed assurance of sins forgiven and eternal life with Jesus.

Rev. Steve Schulz, Pastoral Advisor & Assistant to the Director-Mission Central steve.schulz@lcms.org

Grief Share

Don't know what to do after the funeral (or when you are ready)? You are encouraged to attend Grief Share in our conference room. Sign-up on-line at www.calvaryleeds.com or call Diane Harris at 712-389-5226

Griefshare's winter cycle (13 weeks) has begun. There is a weekly morning time available as well as a weekly evening time. Morning sessions take place from 10:30 am-noon on Tuesdays through April 16. Evening sessions take place from 6:30-8:00 pm on Thursdays through April 18.

Come and find out what Grief Share is all about: "A Safety net when your world is falling apart."

All sessions are confidential. Each is a self-contained unit and if you miss one you can watch it online at griefshare.org. The teaching videos along with the accompanying participant book are invaluable. Bring a friend.

Lutherans for Life

“Please rejoice in knowing prayer works and keep praying for the states who still haven’t banned abortions and for those states trying to ward off those who want to bring it back. We are not done praying and never will be. God is on our side, and He has a plan. We need to stand firm and with faith never give up praying. God controls the power of prayer, and He is amazing.” Virginia Flo, Lutherans For Life – A Life Quote from Lutherans For Life • lutherans-forlife.org

Trustees Corner

The Trustees have been working hard to keep the momentum going on the remodel. The drop ceiling has been installed and the carpet and tile has been removed and new carpet installed. New lights have been installed in the Friendship Room, Hallway, Church Office and Pastors Office. The new furniture has been placed in the area. Now come the task of cleaning. Many areas need cleaning and dusting. If you are willing to help, there is a board with tasks to be done. Pull the slip and go for it.

Book Club

Book Club is examining Remarkably Bright Creatures by Shelby Van Pelt

Shelby Van Pelt's debut novel is a gentle reminder that sometimes taking a hard look at the past can help uncover a future that once felt impossible.

After Tova Sullivan's husband died, she began working the night shift at the Sowell Bay Aquarium, mopping floors and tidying up. Keeping busy has always helped her cope, which she's been doing since her eighteen-year-old son, Erik, mysteriously vanished on a boat in Puget Sound over thirty years ago.

Tova becomes acquainted with curmudgeonly Marcellus, a giant Pacific octopus living at the aquarium. Marcellus knows more than anyone can imagine but wouldn't dream of lifting one of his eight arms for his human captors--until he forms a remarkable friendship with Tova.

Ever the detective, Marcellus deduces what happened the night Tova's son disappeared. And now Marcellus must use every trick his old invertebrate body can muster to unearth the truth for her before it's too late.

They'll meet the 2nd Thursday of the month at 11:30 at Minervas.

Hispanic Ministry in Siouxland How is your heart? Rev. Henry Witte

Jesus said, “What comes out of a person is what defines him. For from within, out of the heart of man, come evil thoughts, sexual immorality, theft, murder, adultery, coveting, wickedness, deceit, sensuality, envy, slander, pride, foolishness. All these evil things come from within, and they defile a person.” Mark 7:20-23

In Spanish as well as English there are songs and advice about following your heart or doing what your heart tells you to do. There is a common belief that inside of us, in the center of our thoughts, desires, and values, deep down inside of us, there is something good. That “something good” will lead us to do what is right.

Years ago in Venezuela, I remember hearing someone say that if a married person falls in love with someone else, they must follow their heart and change their spouse. I don’t know if they would agree with that advice if they were the one left behind or betrayed. Jesus certainly would disagree. He does not give a good description of the human heart, but rather a dismal one in the verses cited above.

Our hearts do not have love until we come to know God’s love. John wrote in his first letter, “We love because He first loved us” (1 John 4:19). Jesus loved us and sacrificed His life for unloving, evil human beings, so that they may be loving human beings guided by God’s love and Word. He is the only hope and remedy for our evil and defiled hearts. He can make us a new people who live in His true love.

This February, we celebrate Valentine’s Day and Ash Wednesday on the same day. May God help us to proclaim in word and deed the wondrous love that He gave to us in Jesus Christ during our Lenten and Easter celebrations. So many have broken hearts and heartaches because of our unloving hearts. Jesus came to save us and transform us and to use us to carry His love to all peoples.

After School English Classes

Ruthie Witte works part-time as a substitute teacher in South Sioux City, Nebraska. She also helps with the after school program for the parents of the students. Three days a week from 4-5:30 pm, she teaches English to the parents. She has many opportunities to speak with the parents about their challenges and difficulties adapting to another country and culture. Some miss the celebrations and parties with family and friends that they had in their home country. At times, some feel that they are unwanted here. Of course, they recognize that they have many benefits and opportunities here which they did not have in their home country. One student related that they were thankful that here one can call the police and know that they will come to help you. In their country, one could not be certain when the police would arrive, if they would help or do harm. May God help us to share His love so that they trust in Him for true help and protection.

Call Extended to Rev Carlos Catalan

We pray that God guide Pastor Carlos as he considers this call and how best he may serve our Lord’s church.

English Classes

We plan to begin our English classes at Hope on January 18 and continue until mid-May. We begin class with a group meeting to study a Bible verse in English and Spanish. Then we sing a Bible song or hymn related with the verse. Sometimes we spend several classes learning the pronunciations and the melody. Years ago, I learned that singing in the new language helps to develop the vocal muscles so as to make the different sounds and combinations. It helped me and others who were serving in Venezuela and learning Spanish. We pray that God would guide our time with the students to help them to know English and to know God’s love for them.

Supporting Siouxland Hispanic Ministry

Thank you to the many congregations and individuals who have supported us over the years. Your generosity has allowed us to continue our ministry of reaching our Hispanic neighbors with the Gospel of Jesus Christ. The work will continue through the members of the Siouxland Churches along with Pastor Henry Witte, who will serve as the vacancy pastor until a new worker arrives.

Donations may be sent to: Calvary. We send 1% of our offerings to support Siouxland Hispanic Ministry. Extra donations may be sent directly to either Calvary or Hope.

WHAT IS SHP?

Sleep in Heavenly Peace is a nonprofit organization that builds, assembles, and delivers top-notch bunk beds to children and families in need.

All children deserve a safe, comfortable place to lay their heads. Throughout the US, too many boys and girls go without a bed, or even a pillow, to sleep on. These children end up sleeping on couches, blankets, and even floors. This can affect their happiness and health.
